COMICS

The quirky little sisters, Kinky and Cosy, manage to wreak havoc with all their naivety and innocence. Fearless and completely uninhibited, these cute little horrors waltz through life, causing mayhem and slapstick with their unfazed children's logic. Surrounded by a large number of secondary characters equally endearing and burlesque, the blond haired twins in their little red dresses invade the Flemish and French press daily in three-panel strips. Three small panels that's all Nix need for a daily dose of nonsensical and politically incorrect humor !

Opinion of the press : « Like any good comic strip, Kinky & Cosy sometimes make us laugh and at other times make us smile, but each time it makes us reflect on the meaning of things.»

PRIZES/NOMINATIONS:

Humor prize at the International Comics Festival of Angoulême in 2006
Youth prize at the Brussels Comics Festival in 2007
Nominated for Eisner Awards in San Diego for the categories Humor and Design in 2012

ANIMATIONS

Ready to spice up your screen? Kinky & Cosy also exist in cartoons! No less than 500 episodes were created by Nix and his team, to charm the animation lovers. The 30-second episodes are the equivalent of the three-panels comic strip: quick, brutal and funny. In a 2D animation style that stays true to the books, the sisters are incorrigible. The series was sold to JIM (Belgium), Orange (France) and YLE (Finland).

With its edgy humour, Kinky & Cosy is a wacky and cool addition to JIM.

Kinky & Cosy was created by Nix, Marnix Verduyn's pseudonym, comic artist, born in Kortrijk (Flemish Belgium) in 1969. A student in Leuven, he already enjoyed a certain reputation as an illustrator and satirical cartoonist. Upon graduating, he opted for an engineering career in the telecommunications sector. But one never changes, and he ended up returning to his first love of drawing. After making all kinds of comics for newspapers and magazines, in 2001, he launched the Kinky & Cosy series, which soon became a cult success. Shortly after, the comic books about the world's most dangerous twins were published by Le Lombard. In recent years, Nix had worked in Belgium, China, France and the USA to produce 500 animated episodes of Kinky & Cosy for television. Meanwhile, the author regularly draws his Billy Bob series for Spirou, about a little boy who dreams of being a cowboy and lives the most absurd adventures in the Far West.
